CHINESE CATHOLICS.

BISHOPS ENTERTAINED.

THE MISSIONS ETTRANGERS.

The twenty-nine Bishops of the Missions Etrangères attending the Peking conference were the guests of the local Chinese Catholic community
on Saturday afternoon when a pleasant
"at home" was given in their honour at "Spring Villa," 13, Mac-donnell Road, the residence of Mr.
Simon Tse Yan, Chairman of the Chinese Catholic Union. This week the Bishops return to their various fields of work. After a very pleasant time spent on the lawn, where music was provided by a string band, the large gathering assembled in the drawing room.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop D. Pozzoni
said: "The community of my Chinese Catholics had expressed to me the desire of being given an opportunity to present to the Missionary Bishops
now gathered in Hongkong the homage of their veneration and gratitude for the Apostleship of the Missions Etrangères in China. Although I was deeply moved by their noble sentiments, yet I hesitated lest I should inconvenience your Lordships, whom I knew to be fully engaged in your Conference. Mr. Simon Tse Yan has dared to attempt what I feared to do myself, and I have deep pleasure in seeing that he has succeeded in persuading your Lordships to come here to his hospitable home, to meet the Chinese Catholics of Hongkong. In presenting to your Lordships Mr. and Mrs. Tse Yan, their daughters, I have the happiness to say that they as well as all the Chinese here present form a real true Catholic community, a splendid proof that the labours and sacrifices of the Catholic Missionaries
are not made in vain.

The Host (Mr. Simon Tse Yan),
who is Chairman of the Chinese Catholic Union, read the following address—Your Grace, your Lordships, Rev. Fathers, ladies and gentlemen.—The Chinese Catholic Community of Hongkong, highly honoured
by the presence of so many and distinguished Princes of the Catholic Church, wishes to express to your Lordships its humble thanks for your illustrious visit. This visit is an historic event, the equal of which is unknown in our annals. The Chinese Catholic Community of Hongkong, which, although continuously increasing, has always been and is still a very small one, feels that it represents today the Catholic community of the whole of China in rendering honour to your Lordships. You are the pioneers and the leaders of our holy Faith, you are Missionary Bishops, who have given up friends and home and country for no other purpose than to spread the Gospel of Our Lord, and we have the fortune to be, and to represent those who have been, the object of your missionary cares. You have gathered here in Hongkong for no other purpose than to confer about the best means of giving new and stronger impulse to your missionary labours, and as most of you are Bishops of China, we may surely say that your assembling is, chiefly, for the greater benefit of our immense country of China. We therefore, say to you, in the words of old, "Blessed are ye that come in the name of the Lord."

As I have said, we, the Chinese Catholic Community, are but a small minority in this Colony of Hongkong, which, under the security afforded by the British flag, has grown so large and prosperous. We feel confident however, that the visit of your Lordships will mark the beginning of a vigorous increase in our numbers.
Proud as we are of the Faith, which,
thanks to our missionaries, we may call our common faith, we hope and pray that the attention of our non-Christian brethren, having been called to-day to the visit of your Lordships
to us, may be also turned to study earnestly the object of the missionary life of your Lordships and, consequently, result in the end in numerous conversions to the true God.

On behalf of those present Mr.
Simon Tse Yan wished the Bishops
good health and a full measure of success in their Missionary Conference and labours, and a safe and happy
return to their Dioceses.

His Grace Archbishop Morel, of Pondicherry, said he thanked Bishop Pozzoni for his kind words and the hosts for their entertainment. The Bishops were very glad to meet so many Chinese Catholics and to receive so hearty a welcome at their hands.
He imagined that many of those present must have come, originally, from Canton, Macao, and neighbouring places, where French missionaries preached to their forefathers. In that way the Bishops present could claim them as their spiritual children.

"Though you are under the pastoral care" of Bishop Pozzoni, said the Archbishop, "your forefathers were under ours. It is a tie which must last long between you and us. You

COMMUNIST OUTBREAKS.

BERLIN, March 23th.
There is an indication that the authorities are expecting the upper hand in connection with the Communist disturbances in Prussian Saxony. The police rejected the overtures made by the Communist leader at Elbe with a view of securing the cessation of hostilities and eventually fully controlled Elbe after sharp fighting in which machine-guns were used, and also occupied Hettstedt after a violent conflict, but the Communists are estimated at 6,000 strong and have plenty of arms and ammunition and possess large nitrogen works at Leuna, near Halle.

SHANGHAI FIRM.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED.

NO INFORMATION IN SHANGHAI.

New York, March 17.—Receivers have been appointed to take over the business of Messrs. Gaston, Williams & Wigmore, exporters and importers, whose liabilities are estimated at six million dollars gold. Their assets consist of stock in subsidiary companies throughout the world. It is understood that the company's financial embarrassment is due to the depreciation of its stock holdings, and also to its heavy losses owing to the Soviet Government's repudiation of its claims for supplies to the Imperial and Kerensky governments.—Reuter.

Prior to receiving the full text of the above telegram a representative of the North-China Daily News called at the office of Messrs. Gaston, Williams & Wigmore (Far Eastern Division, Inc.), which has to be differentiated from the New York firm above mentioned. It was stated there that no information had been received regarding any financial difficulties affecting the firm, although in the meantime telegrams were being received dealing with machinery and other articles of trade. It was pointed out that the firm had recently been taken over by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York and that reconstruction was at present in progress.

say your community here is very small. I hope it will grow larger every day, but for this to happen you Chinese Christians must proselytise.
Our Christians have not that spirit as strongly as they ought to have. It is very much by your behaviour, and by showing a good example that you will influence others. As our Saviour said, love for our neighbours is the sign of true discipleship. Stand fast by that,
and it will be well with you. We wish you all increase; but—(the Archbishop added, with a smile)— few and good—(laughter). Be good Christians, and by example you will make good followers.

THEFT ON STEAMER.

A SUCCESSFUL ESCAPE.

IMPUDENT ROBBERY ESCAPE.

An impudent robbery, followed by an equally impudent escape, was effected by four Chinese who boarded the steamer "Phranang" (Captain Heaney) as it was coming to buoy at West Point yesterday after the doctor's inspection on arrival from Saigon. Among the large number of coolies on board were a number of women who had entrusted their precious savings to one of their sex
who kept the money in a satchel round her waist. Making their way to the small gathering of women in the midst of the crowd on deck, the four men proceeded for near with which they began to play. The first small stake having scored a win, the woman with the money loosened
the satchel with the intention of extricating several coins for further play, when one of the men, watching his opportunity, seized the belt, and with his three confederates pushed through the astonished crowd to the ship's side where all four jumped aboard their rampan. As the steamer was under way at the time and there were no launches in the vicinity the robbers were able to make the shore unmolested in full sight of their victims, who could do nothing more than bemoan their loss.

THEATRE ROYAL.

BANDMAN (PERA 'O).

OPENING THURSDAY NIGHT.

The Bandman Opera Company
will commence a three weeks' season at the Theatre Royal on Thursday evening in "Bran Pie,"
the great London Prince of Wales
Theatre Success. The Singapore Free Press says—

The Bandman Opera Company
once again pay a welcome return visit to Singapore and it was a large and appreciative audience which assembled in the Victoria Theatre last evening to witness the Company's opening performance, "Bran Pie,"
the sparkling revue by Herbert Bryan with music by Philip Braham. Produced in two parts, the programme is composed mostly of dips from the monster bran pie and as the dips were of different shapes and sizes everyone seemed satisfied. No pains had been spared in the mounting of the piece or in the costumes or mechanical effects.
In fact rarely has Mr. Bandman staged or costumed his company with such taste and lavishness. Miss Madeline Rossiter is a well-known local favourite, for players here will remember her as the life and spirit of the "Pierrot Pie" Company.
"Bran Pie" was well dipped into.
Following the "Opening Dip" was
"A Ragtime Dip" in which Jack Crichton, and Milson Brett scored a big success in "A Lesson in Ragtime."
Then followed a "Chinese Dip," Chong, in which Madeline Rossiter sang the tuneful little melody with charming effect amidst some very pretty scenery. One of the items which brought out roars of laughter was "A Disorderly Dip"
a skit on a regimental orderly room
in which Eric Masters was an "Old Bill" type of Sergeant Major, and Jack Crichton was the prisoner. "A Doggy Dip" caused much merriment, while Madeline Rossiter's singing of the Vamp Song was very effective.
One of the features of the Company is the chorus, and all the ten pieces to be presented during the Company's stay in Singapore are new, full of humour and of the best.

Death has been busy of late among the old residents of Kobe, and we regret to have to record the passing away of Mr. George Y. Taylor, from pneumonia following influenza, says the Japan Chronicle. Although in his seventy-fourth year, Mr. Taylor had been in good health, and was out
as usual on the previous Sunday.
Mr. Taylor came to Japan (Yokohama) in May 1870, and to Kobe some three years later, but his connection with this port was not continuous, having been broken by several trips abroad.

To demonstrate the possibility of a non-stop flight from China to Japan, Major Winder, of the famous Vickers firm, at Barrow, England, is at present in Japan. He is perfectly confident that flying between Japan and China, say between Tokyo and Peking, can be done with as much ease and comfort as the daily journey by air between London and Paris, and between other points, which have now become so frequent in the West that they have ceased to attract attention.

CHINESE WRITING.BEAUTIFUL ART.*INTERESTING SHANGHAI LECTURE.

Mrs. F. Ayscough gave a lecture on the evolution of Chinese calligraphy, poetry and painting at the Royal Asiatic Society. Mrs. O. M. Green presided and, in introducing the lecturer, referred to the famine conditions as worse now than they ever had been.

After describing, with the help of some excellent lantern slides, the origin and evolution of the Chinese written character, Mrs. Ayscough went on to say that no rigid convention fettered the fancy of calligraphists. Each had striven to write his characters more beautifully than his predecessor. Generations had been toiling from time immemorial to perfect this art, so that through centuries of tireless effort the primary ideograph had evolved into "a thing of beauty indescribable." Characters only consisted of a few brush strokes, but in every stroke there was a subtle grace. An imperceptible curve would make a word seem alive, the lecturer declared enthusiastically.

In China the arts of calligraphy, poetry and painting were indissoluble in their relation to one another. To the question, "How should Chinese art be envisaged?" Mrs. Ayscough characterized it as being above all human; the art of reasonable, concrete-minded men with a sensitive sense of the pathos and gaiety of life, and the beauty and grandeur of nature.

LITERATURE ALL POETRY.

As regards the literature of the country, it resembled in spirit that of Wordsworth and the modern literary movement in Paris. Chinese poetry was all poetry, the most human, but not symbolic or romantic. It contemplated life just as life presented itself. It cleared away the obstruction which habit had built up between us and the beauty of things, showing nature revered but not recreated. Mrs. Ayscough gave some charming interpretations of the verses inscribed on the poem pictures shown on the screen. A beautiful poem by Li Po to a firefly was also quoted by the lecturer, which runs:—

Rain cannot quench thy lantern light
Winds make it shine more brightly
Oh! why not fly to heaven afar
And twinkle near the moon, a star?

Li, when he rose to fame, joined a dissolute coterie known as the "Six Idlers of the Bamboo Brook," but, in spite of becoming a victim to alcohol, he always succeeded in literally dashing off much excellent work.

DRAGONS AND THEIR FUNCTIONS.

While explaining to her audience the series of lantern slides showing classical examples of Chinese art,

THE FAMINE.

Urgent dispatches were sent throughout China yesterday by the recruiting department of the United International Famine Relief Committee, calling for men and women to volunteer their services for the final offensive against plague and hunger.

The plague cannot be stopped nor grain delivered to the starving in sufficient quantity to meet the coming expansion of relief work unless the staffs are more adequately manned, according to P. A. Swartz who is in charge of this work. The danger now according to Mr. Swartz, is that the staffs may find themselves short-handed in the most crucial period of the entire famine. The dispatches were sent to mission stations throughout the Republic, and appeals are, also being made locally.

The special call is for thirty foreigners who speak Mandarin and thirty capable Chinese to aid in the direction of the field forces. Physicians, clerks, stenographers, engineers and many others capable of supervising and aiding in direction of the work are needed at once. Every recruit means the saving of many lives and the crippling of a single staff means the loss of lives. Mr. Swartz says: "Many men and women have been in the field all winter. Some of these are about to return to their home countries, some must return to other work and their places filled. On the other hand, many who volunteered for short periods are standing by to the end and more of these are now wanted to see the fight through."

Mrs. Ayscough had some interesting remarks to make about dragons. Besides the four kinds referred to by the K'ang Hsi dictionary, she continued, dragons of varying colours such as gold, purple and scarlet, were found; as varying as their classes and colours were the numberless duties performed by these saurians. The spiritual dragons controlled the winds, the clouds and rains, while the earthly dragons opened streams, and deepened seas. The Imperial dragon was always to be distinguished by a fifth claw, which it assumed as being intimately associated with the Son of Heaven.

Mr. W. E. Souter, in proposing a vote of thanks to the lecturer, made an appeal on behalf of the famine sufferers. He reiterated the Chairman's remark that the real stress of the famine was only just beginning to be felt. The distribution committee of the United Famine Relief Funds had handed $7,500,000 to various bodies for relief, but more and more subscriptions were needed.

NEED FOR WIRELESS."HONG MOH" DISASTER.*SHANGHAI MAN INDIGNANT.

In the course of a letter to the N.E.C. News W.E. Kent says:— "There are many instances of vessels getting ashore which could have been saved if assistance had reached them sooner, sometimes many days elapse before any assistance arrives at a stranded vessel."

I have worked a wireless apparatus on many occasions, and one of the fascinating things about it is that when one touches the key, the same moment the wave produced leaves the aerial at the speed of 186,000 miles per second. I have merely mentioned this fact to illustrate to non-technical readers that this is the speed that letters of a message can be tapped out. An S.O.S. can be sent to all vessels and shore stations in a few seconds, the position of the ship in trouble would take a few minutes to transmit.

We have just read a pitiful story of the wreck of the "Hong Moh" and its attendant loss of life, and although we have no details, I think it is safe to assume that the carried no wireless (and yet she had over 1,000 lives on board).

The ship that went to her assistance (it says in your paper of the 15th instant) had to leave the wreck and go in search of further assistance. It is also stated that they moved to passing vessels and got no reply. If this is true, it is terrible—ships on the China Coast in the year 1921, trying to summon help with more lamps to a wreck where terrible loss of life is taking place, and eventually having to leave the wreck to get help, is too shameful for any words of mine properly to express. This should be sufficient food for reflection for those interested in shipping whether they are owners, crew, passengers or underwriters. I estimate there are 10 steamers passing every day within 10 miles of the Boat Rocks, where the "Hong Moh" was wrecked. Now if the "Hong Moh" had used wireless it is safe to assume that she would have got help in two or three hours. In any case, if I remember rightly, the Boat Rocks are about 35 miles from Swatow so that she could have got help from there in a few hours—possibly she would have been able to send a message for some time after striking, and no doubt steamers in Swatow could have attended to her, and actually been alongside in a few hours.

A good many people think rheumatism cannot be cured without taking powerful medicine. Chamberlain's Pain Balm massaged thoroughly into the skin has cured far more rheumatism than any internal remedy in existence and gives relief quicker. For sale by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

IRISH REPRISALS.
LONDON, March 28th.
As a reprisal for the ambush at Carrick Kennedy the forces of the Crown entered Westport at 2 o'clock in the morning, and spent four hours wrecking the town, continuously vollying and bombing houses and shops and burning furniture. Many inhabitants since the ambush were sleeping out. Others took refuge in the workhouse.

A number of railway stations and signal cabins on the Antrim railways were set fire to by incendiaries last night. The week-end was marked by a series of incendiary fires in the northern outskirts of London and in Northumberland, which are attributed to Sinn Fein. The burning out of four ricks on different properties in the St. Albans district on Good Friday night was succeeded by a similar destruction of six ricks on adjoining lands at New Barnet last night while simultaneously outbreaks started in farms in six districts surrounding Newcastle, including Wallsend, Jarrow and South Shields.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD.
BERKELEY (CALIFORNIA), March 27th.
Competing for the University, at the Southern California Athletic Meeting, Charles Padlock covered 200 yards, in 30 4/5 seconds, which, it is claimed, is a new world's record.

MOSCOW INTERNATIONALE.
CHRISTIANIA, March 27th.
A meeting of the National Congress of the Norwegian Labour Party has decided, by 251 votes, to adhere to the Moscow Internationale, unconditionally. The minority decided to form a new independent Socialist party.

INDIAN JAIL OUTBREAK.

LONDON, March 28th.
The Secretary of State for India announces that 600 prisoners broke out of the Rajshahi jail in Bengal on March 23rd, taking arms and ammunition belonging to the guards. It is believed that the plot was organised by political convicts.

ZEPPELIN SECRET.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28th.
Officials of the Navy Yard announce that scientists in the Pittsburgh steel mill have discovered the formula for the aluminium alloy used by the Germans in the framework of Zeppelins. It is hoped with the new discovery to complete a dirigible building in Philadelphia and attempt an Atlantic flight in it in Summer.

FRENCH TRADE.

PARIS, March 28th.
The official statistics of French trade during the first months of 1921 show an increasingly favourable situation. For the first time in several years the exports exceed the imports by over 27,000,000, at par.—Havas.

OBITUARY.

LONDON, March 28th.
The death is announced of Marcus Stone, R.A., the famous painter, at the age of 81.

BRITISH MISSION TO KABUL.

DELHI, March 28th.
It is officially announced that Sir Henry Dobbs, head of the British Mission to Kabul, profiting by the lull in the Afghan negotiations is making a few days' flying visit to Delhi to report progress to Lord Chelmsford, prior to the latter's departure for England. Other members of the mission remain in Kabul.

COAL INDUSTRY OUTLOOK.

LONDON, March 28th.
As both coal-owners and miners are obdurate, there is little prospect of averting a national stoppage on March 31st, when the industry returns to private management. The miners declare that the stoppage will be a lock-out for the owners, who have recently terminated contracts with men, who are now bound to resume on April 1st on reduced wages fixed by district agreements or to cease work. The public are not excessively disquieted at the prospect of stoppage, for stocks of coal are large, and foreign coal can be imported pretty cheaply, while the trade slump has restricted the industrial requirements of coal. Moreover, the miners have been financially crippled by the last strike, and as there is not the slightest prospect of employers yielding the most probable result is a split in the Miners' Federation, unless the leaders, in the next few days, evolve a policy which may keep the districts together.

Both sides, yesterday, separately reported to the Government the failure of the negotiations. Pending the Government's reply, the owners have gone to the districts to invite the men to listen to an explanation of the owners' offer.

INDIAN FISCAL POLICY.

LONDON, March 28th.
The Lancashire cotton industry, recently protected loudly against the new Indian duty on cotton and other goods. A representative deputation of employers and employers waited on Mr. Montagu with a view to the removal of the duty, but the Minister declared that the Government could not dictate India's fiscal policy, and showed that the offending duty was not aimed at Lancashire but designed to raise necessary revenue.

DESPONDENCY DUE TO CONSTIPATION.

BRANDY AND OYSTERS.

BELGIAN WARNING.

MINERAL WATER DRINKERS.
BRUSSELS.
Local doctors attribute the increasing number of cases of appendicitis here to indulgence in mineral water. It is pointed out that years ago, when more wine and stronger beer were drunk, the alcohol killed any microbes that might have been eaten. Germs from oysters, the newspapers say, affect only the teetotalers, those who drink wine and liquors being immune. In Belgium large quantities of shellfish are eaten, and tradition says that they should always be washed down by a glass of brandy—in case of accidents. Many years ago at a dinner at Winchester a number of people were poisoned by oysters subsequently found to have been contaminated by sewage. Those people who took alcohol were scarcely affected, but some of those who did not died and others became seriously ill.

TRUTH, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE.
HONGKONG, MONDAY, MARCH 28, 1921.

PERVETRY OF CIRCUM- STANCES.

Have you noticed how, sometimes, the best of intentions, owing to the perversion of circumstance, may lead honestly into a false light, in which Desdemona herself looks naughty, and the most candid remark takes on a "double entendre"? This note is being written in advance of any complaints, and may therefore support the thesis by suggesting that it is a case of "qui s'excuse, s'accuse." On Thursday a China Mail employee received a letter, with a covering note saying it was intended to be published in all the four papers on Saturday. Remembering that Friday would be a holiday, and that it is customary to set up in type as much advance copy as may be ready, this employee (after getting it editorially passed) sent the letter to the printers, at the same time notifying the sender that it would appear, so far as the Mail was concerned, on Saturday as he intended. About 11.15 on Saturday morning, the writer of the letter telephoned to ask that the letter be held over until Tuesday, apparently owing to the holidays. Could this be done? Our man replied that it could and would be done. He went to the printers to arrange accordingly, only to find that the letter was already locked up in the form of a completed page, and could not be suppressed except by the Russian censor's method of blacking it out. It wasn't of sufficient importance to do that. He hurried back to telephone an explanation to the writer, but could not get him. A copy was then sent on the rush to the other evening paper, with an explanation, and a request that they would let it in if possible. It was too late for them, not being urgent news or from the journalistic point of view, of sufficient importance to warrant disturbance of routine work.

That is the true reason why the letter appeared prematurely in Saturday's China Mail. We hope that in the circumstances it will not be allowed to prejudice the chances of publication in the other papers, because, of course, no editor cares to publish such matter that has been inserted in another paper already. It wasn't in any way the fault of the writer of the letter. We have offered this frank explanation for the purpose, first, of making that clear; and second, of preventing any suspicion that our man was attempting any sort of "sharp practice." The accouchement of this literary infant (the subject of the letter) must be in the best of circumstances an anxious one. It is a child of fond hopes, and we do hope that this unlucky business of the birth announcement will not be prejudicial. Anything tending to serve Art and Culture in this Colony deserves the support of the Press, and when promoted by persons of repute, as in this case, will, we feel sure, receive it.

OUR-SOUVENIR SUPPLE- MENT.

REMARKABLE RECEPTION.

REGRETTABLE INCIDENTS.

The art and business of publishing in Hongkong is full of surprises. Although long experience has taught us how more or less accurately to forecast public demand for China Mail wares, Saturday's reception of our 76th birthday number, with souvenir supplement, was much more enthusiastic than we expected it to be. It was in a way almost embarrassingly enthusiastic. Our men have been working night and day to maintain the supply, because some people not satisfied with the one gratis copy to which they were entitled on purchasing Saturday's China Mail, bought quantities from the newsboys, in tens and dozens. This makes it necessary to repeat, what was mainly announced beforehand, that the distribution of this literary bonus to the public must be confined to the one day. As fast as we can bind them, these expensive magazines are being turned out for sale to people desirous of them, at one dollar per copy. Applications are being filed.

We may explain here, that the delay in publication was not our fault. Indeed, the repeated postponements cannot be attributed to fault at all. The contributors to this historical fascicle were, as a glance at the names will show, mostly busy men and public men, who had to write these weighty articles in their spare time. One or two, having promised to contribute, were unable to do so in time, and in waiting for these we had to defer the work. We may mention, perhaps, without indiscretion, that the regrettable illness of the Hon. Mr. P. H. Yee, who had very kindly accepted our invitation to write on Constitutional Reform, was a case in point. But for the generosity of Mr. Cartwright, who interrupted his own work at the last moment in answer to our appeal, to supply the excellent history and argument figuring in the compilation, we should have had to omit this important subject, along with some others where we were less fortunate.

The Rev. Mr. Macdonald took the trouble to prepare for us a short history of his church, the oldest in the island; and to him and his congregation the China Mail has to offer profound apologies. The manuscript was duly received, and was mislaid and forgotten by an employee, who will suffer for his carelessness. We are very sorry indeed, not only because of the accidental affront to the good nature of our beloved Father, but also because of the entailed incompleteness of that section of our magazine.

To certain other omissions, due to the indifference of persons who either refused or neglected to supply information asked for, we do not propose to make more than general reference. These people do not recognize the uniqueness of the opportunity, and if they are chagrined by the non-appearance of their institutions in this record, we are not far from being in the case of the Kink in any way to blame.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

"I got out of touch with my peremptory employer due to the burying of an old mother," says a college applicant for "the position of office boy."

A cotton blanket weaving mill has been erected in Soochow on Tiger Hill. The plant will have 5,000 wooden spindles and approximately 50 looms. It expects to start weaving immediately.

Among residents who left by the P. & O. s.s. "Kashmir" on Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. F. Mailand, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Leith, Mr. A. H. Hollingsworth, Mr. Jupp, Lieut. Commander Kilgour, and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Arnett.

Two parties of members of the Japanese Diet are to visit China and America this summer probably leaving in June and July. The members to be included will be selected after a joint conference of the various political parties.—Reuter.

The American Hardwood Record, dated January 10, 1921, says: "The immortality of wood is suggested by the old British convict ship 'Success' which recently put in at a dry docks in Tampa, Fla., for some minor repairs. Built in 1790 at Moulmein in British India, as Kipling said, 'By the old Moulmein pagoda, looking eastward to the sea,' the vessel is by many years the oldest ship afloat to-day. The fact that it has survived that hazardous vicissitudes of a seafaring career of 130 years is attributed to its massive construction of solid Burmese teak, a wood that for resistance to decay has no equal in the world."

The death took place on March 14, at his home, Pelham Manor, New York, of Mr. Gordon A. Roper. In 1918, when Mr. Roper was in charge of the American Trading Company in Shanghai, he made many friends, and was well known as a tennis player. In the series of inter-part matches between Hankow and Shanghai, he ably assisted in the victories of the home team. Mr. Roper, who for eight years was in the service of the American Trading Company at Kobe, had been in bad health during the past year. He left Kobe for the United States last spring, and his untimely death is deeply regretted in Shanghai, where he was known as the "best liked American in the Far East."

CHINESE INTERPORT.

SOME STRAITS COMMENTS.

The following is from a Straits paper:—
A party of about 15 Chinese are leaving for Hongkong on or about April 11 to engage in a series of tennis matches against the Chinese of Hongkong. The party, which is being led by that well-known sportsman, Chung Ah Ming, of Ipoh, will include Dr. K. T. Khong of Ipoh, Wei Hye, the champion tennis player of Penang, and several other capable players from Ipoh, Penang and Singapore. The party will be the guests of Mr. Leong Eng Khean in Hongkong.

So far as tennis is concerned, they will meet with stiff opposition in Hongkong, and Wei Hye, who is about the best singles player among the Chinese in Malaya, will have to play very well to beat Ng Sze Kwong, who has retained his title in Hongkong among all communities in Hongkong for three years in succession. Ng Sze Kwong is, indeed, one of the best tennis players in the East, and has a win against Kamata, the famous Japanese player, to his credit.

Another well known Hongkong player is Wei Wing Lock, who with Ng Sze Kwong (brother of Ng Sze Kwong) played a good deal of tennis in the South of England last season and was beaten in the Open Doubles at Wimbledon by Roper Barrett and his partner in the third round. It is likely that Ng Sze Kwong has now returned to Hongkong from Cambridge; he has been expected back there these past six months. If he is back, Malaya will have to play above its form to win anything.

The Open Doubles Champions of Hongkong are a Chinese pair M. K. and M. W. Lo, who walked through everything in the last open tournament there, and, like Ng Sze Kwong and Wei Wing Lock, represented Hongkong in inter-part tennis matches against Shanghai.

The Lo brothers played a lot of tennis in England when they were at Cambridge, but have improved a lot since then and are now well up to Wimbledon standard. This pair will, doubtless, be one of the Hongkong couples at Doubles, but if Mr. Sze Kwong has returned, he and Wei Wing Lock will probably play together and Ng Sze Kwong will be partnered by Wong Po Keung. These three couples will be a very stiff proposition for our Malayan players who should however be all the better for the visit.

SHOOTING.

H.K.V.D.C.'S RECORD.

By winning the Rifle League, the team of the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps becomes the season's Champions, and secures the custody of the Bellis Shield for one year.

This Shield was presented in 1911 by Mr. R. E. Bellis to encourage rifle shooting. In the competition held that year, H.M.S. "Minotaur" earned the distinction of being the first winners of the Shield. Since then competitions had been held every year, but the entries have always numbered very few teams, rarely exceeding half a dozen. This season, however, with a large field here, a record was reached with no fewer than 12 teams competing for the Championship. The shooting has, on the whole, been of a high standard, the outstanding features being the remarkable score recently put up by the H.K.V.D.C. viz 1,002, and the fine scores contributed by some of individual members of the team.

The winners are to be congratulated on their co-operation with the Corps officers, particularly Major Rapson, D.S.O., the popular Adjutant, himself a no mean shot. At the commencement of the season members of the Corps shot for places in the team, which resulted as follows:—Mr. Grimes, 138; Mr. Lyon, 131; Mr. F. Goodwin, 131; Mr. R. Goodwin, 125; Mr. Dodwell, 118; Mr. Frith, 117; Mr. Young, 114; Mr. Wells, 113. Messrs Shaw, Thornhill and Gow were counted out. Later on, alterations were made in the team which sustained its success. The winners' highest score was 1,002, made against H.M.S. "Curlew," their lowest being 937, against H.M.S. "Tamar" at Stonecutters, the horror of many local marksmen. It was on this occasion the Corp. Grimes, the Colony's Champion, put up the score of 139, which constituted a record, but which he has since beaten by four points, proving that Stonecutters is no more difficult than King's Park.

The following table shows how the individual members of the H.K.V.D.C. team contributed to its success:—

Name	Total points scored.	No. of matches shot.	Average.
Mr. Grimes	1201	9	133.5
"F. Goodwin	1013	8	126.6
"Meade	1013	9	122.0
"R. Goodwin	1058	9	117.6
"Shaw	938	3	312.7

"CAIRO" v. "CURLEW."

On the Club ground on Friday, Rugby enthusiasts were treated to a very fine exhibition of the game when teams representing the "Cairo" and the "Curlew" played a match in aid of Earl Haig's Warior's Fund. Owing to the inclement weather, the attendance was not as large as the good cause deserved, but there was a good number of Servicemen present both in the stand and round the roped in field. During the game a collection was taken by sailors in quaint made-ups, and a satisfactory sum was netted for the Fund.

The game was very evenly contested throughout, and after a very strenuous struggle, resulted in a draw of three points each. "Curlew" attacked at the open of the game and gave the "Cairo" defence a hard time, but the back was playing a safe game and let nothing pass him. It was not until half way through the first half of the game that the "Curlew" forwards got an opening. Boswell, who got possession of the oval close in, did not waste much time in pushing his way through, and touched down near the post. The try was well taken but the oval missed the uprights by a narrow margin. With the "Curlew" leading, the "Cairo" forwards went all out to equalize, and although for a while they were successfully kept out, when near the end of the first half they were rewarded for their pains. Their try was also unconverted, and when the teams changed ends the score sheet read three points all.

The second half saw good play on both sides, each team struggling hard for the lead but with little success. The "Curlew" had the better of the exchanges during the closing stages of the game but their tendency to hang on to the oval too long spoiled whatever chances they had of winning the game. The final whistle found the score sheet unchanged.

Lieut.-Commander Carey of the "Titania" had charge of the game.

R.H.K.Y.C. CUP COMPETITION.

On Saturday the race for the Commodore's and Vice-Commodore's Cups was sailed off over a course of mark in Yau Tong (P), Kowloon Rock (P), Markbook on club line (P), and Channel Rocks (P). 92 miles.

The Handicap class sailed with the One Design, the winner taking the Commodore's Cup and the first boat of the other class the Vice-Commodore's cup. The racing was followed by Mr. Frank Smyth, the popular and genial Commodore of the Club, who was the officer for the day. He had the satisfaction of seeing his son in "Daphne" capture the Vice-Commodore's cup in the first division. The Commodore's cup was won by "Rolla," which has been sailed throughout the season by Mr. N. Crougher.

"Gad" won the Commodore's cup in the 2nd division, catching "Sirius"

and "Dawn" on the line. "Sirius" by saving her time from "Dawn" secured the Vice-Commodore's cup.

The results are interesting in that none of the class championship winners got placed. The wind which was moderate from E.S.E. at the start became fuky after half the course had been covered, and the second division crossed the line in the lightest of airs.

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL.

"TITANIA" WINS SHIELD.

R.G.A. DEFEATED 4-2.

In spite of the overcast weather on Saturday, a large gathering witnessed the final match in the Hongkong Shield Competition between the "Titania" and the R.G.A.

Long before the time the match was scheduled to start, the Club stand was crowded, and late comers had to stand around the roped-in playing pitch. The crowd was so big that the ropes were lined several deep at every part of the field.

Walker won the toss, and the Artillerymen elected to defend the goal in the Civil Service end of the field. Powell kicked off for the sailors, but the gunners immediately got possession, and were soon making tracks for enemy goal. They were close in when Wilson was pulled up for offside. A good clear saw the sailors' left wing running down the field, but Kerridge kicked the ball into touch. Hendry trapped the ball from the throw in and working his way close in, had the misfortune to shoot wide. McGann returned the ball to the danger zone immediately from the pass and Hendry ran in. Donovan fell back on the goal and was able only partially to clear the ball which fell at the foot of Garride who took a first time shot and sent the ball flying into the net.

With the "Titania" leading five minutes from the start, the Artillery resumed with determination and immediately from the centre made tracks for the sailors' goal, but Kerridge was safe and kicked into touch. In the melee which followed, Dawson was fouled by Robertson, and the R.G.A. were given a free kick. This was well taken, but Kerridge was again in position and cleared. Garride took the ball to the other end only to be robbed by Frampton who kicked out. Hendwood passed to McHugh from the throw in, but the latter centered weakly, Maplesden clearing without difficulty. When the "Titania" pressed, Holloway just managed to save by turning a shot from Garride round the post. Garride, placed the ball well from the corner flag and Hendwood had the misfortune to handle in the penalty area. Hendry put the ball past Holloway and the sailors led by two goals.

Soon afterwards, McGann sent in a long pass. Cooper got possession and sent in a shot which Holloway just managed to stop. Hendry, who had kept well up, was able to touch the ball into the net leaving Holloway without a chance. From the centre kick, the R.G.A. had the better of the game and their efforts were rewarded by Kerridge sending in a stinging shot which Yeoman only just touched. Play then became of a general nature and at half time the sailors led by three goals to one.

On the resumption the sailors took up the attack being stopped by Frampton. A free kick awarded for a foul throw-in set the R.G.A. going the movement ending with a shot from Watson, which was cleared by Maplesden. The R.G.A. kept up the pressure but off-side being given against Wilson brought to an end a promising attack. Play was transferred to the other end but without result. Frampton again setting his forwards going with a high kick. Wilson received the ball but shot wide. A series of attacks on the part of the R.G.A. resulted in a corner being forced, which proved abortive. Play then became of an even nature until the "Titania" obtained a free-kick, which was entrusted to Cooper who sent the ball over the bar. The R.G.A. again forced a corner but it brought no result. Shortly afterwards Hendwood sent in a hot shot and following up, tried to put the sailors' goal in the net. This action brought a free kick which relieved the pressure. "Titania" then broke away, the movement ending with another goal, giving the sailors a lead of four goals to one. During the last few minutes the R.G.A. attacked hotly and Yeoman added another point with a fast shot. The game ended with the "Titania" winning by four goals to two.

Mr. Jones was the referee and Messrs. McCubbin and J. Clark the linesmen.

At the end of the game Mr. Wilton, Chairman of the Hongkong Football Club, presented the Shield and medals to the "Titania" and the runners-up cup to the R.G.A. Mr. Wilton congratulated both teams on the game they had put up that afternoon, and hoped that the R.G.A. would go one better next year and take the shield. McGann received the shield for the "Titania," and Walker the cup for the R.G.A.

The Shield which was presented by the community of Hongkong for annual competition among the Football Clubs in the Colony has been won as follows:—By H.M.S. "Centurion," 1897, and the King's Own Rifles, 1898; Hongkong Football Club, 1899; Welsh Fusiliers, 1900; R.A., 1901; Welsh Fusiliers, 1902; H.M.S. "Glory," 1903; H.M.S. SECOND DIVISION LEAGUE.

KOWLOON RES. v. H.K.F.C.

In the Second Division League, playing on the Club ground before the Challenge Shield match, Kowloon Res. beat H.K.F.C. Res. by two goals to one. The Club Res. fielded one man short, and Kowloon had the better of the exchanges throughout. First blood was drawn by the Club, Lyon sending out to East, the latter returning, and Bailton beating Mskett with a fast shot at close range. Kowloon returned to the attack and gained the equalizer when Donovan beat Groot with a high shot. In the course of further interesting play, Groot made several nice saves only to miss a screw shot from Mason. At half time Kowloon had two to the Club's one, and notwithstanding spirited attempts by the Club to equalize in the second half, the final whistle came with this score unaltered. Mr. E. Leaf was in charge of an interesting game.

THE STENTORPHONE.

"A GRAMOPHONE HUSTLER."

NEW DEVICE ON THE TUBES.

The powers which rule our railways have invented a new means of disciplining the passengers. The travellers on the moving staircase at Oxford-circus now find themselves exhorted by a machine called an "automatic stentorphone," which, with a voice, according to the Homeric guarantee, as loud as fifty men shouting together, bids them keep to the right. This formidable engine is further described as a "gramophone hustler" or a "super-gramophone," worked by compressed air, and though men may come and men may go, it goes on for ever. We are assured that its purpose is purely benevolent. The greatest good for the greatest number is the guiding principle of the stentorphone. To accelerate the stream of traffic is to benefit one and all, and therefore, the wise passenger will welcome and instantly obey the automatic admonitions. Such is the theory of the new scheme, and there is a good deal to be said for it. People who will stand or move upon the left side when the whole system of civilisation demands that they should choose the right, are, no doubt, enemies of society. We are prepared to welcome all effective devices for reducing the chaos of our lines of communication to order. But we have no great faith in the gramophone hustler. It may be that its recurring admonitions will call sinners to repentance and reform. But some experience of human nature suggests uncomfortable suspicions that its voice will increase the nervousness of the nervous and the confusion of the confused, yet fail to disturb the complacency of those who have no consideration for the convenience of others. It is these classes, the bewildered and the inconsiderate, who make blocks in traffic, and we can find small reason to believe that they will be cured by automatic gramophone or any other method of hustling. Both are likely to be made more obstructive by a lavish use of the imperative mood. So a certain scepticism as to the advantages of the new method is inevitable. Its disadvantages are painfully obvious. London travellers are already grievously familiar with noise and with hustling. If the powers of machinery are to be called in to multiply these evils we contemplate the future with terror. A stentorphone at every station would add much to the miseries of human existence, and there is no assurance that it would be confined to railways. Super-gramophones might automatically roar at us in every "bus," Bray at us in every street. We can only hope that the experiment at Oxford-circus will be long and carefully considered before any further action is taken.

BOY'S AFFECTIONS.

MOTHER TELL HE IS 9.

AFTERWARDS FATHER AND SENIOR BOYS.

The mind of the schoolboy has begun to exercise reformers to such an extent that at some public schools regular lessons in psychology are now being given; and at most schools, Eton included, lecturers have been eagerly received.

Branches are being formed all over the country by a guild of health, which teaches the effect of mind on health and takes as one of its chief planks the idea that there is plenty of room inside the Church of England for what is called Christian Science. This movement is as remarkable in its way as the Life and Liberty movement, and violent differences of opinion about it are arising among the clergy.

One of the chief specialists in the schoolboy's mind has mapped out the development of the normal boy thus: Up to 9 years old his heroine and the chief object of his affection is his mother.

He then transfers his admiration to his father.

At 12 or 13 his father gives place to the elder boys of the school, who are regarded for a while as demigods.

At 18, if not before, the admiration is again transferred to persons, especially female, of his own age.

The inference is that, if at any stage the natural instinct is balked and gets no free play, or is wrongly transferred, both the nature and the bodily health suffer.

CHINESE PHILANTHROPIST'S SCHEME.

A correspondent writes to the N.C.D. News:- In the prefecture of Canton, in the city of Huahsien was born Hung Hsuan-chuan who afterwards became the famous king of the Tai Ping, or long-haired rebels. Another candidate for fame has proceeded from this city, Mr. Hsu Mao-chun. Ten years before the Revolution he used to carry scissors hidden in his clothes, and cut off all the queues he could lay hands on. He was soon known everywhere as an ardent reformer of hair and clothes. History does not say how he escaped the wrath of the Manchus. Perhaps the shade of the great Taiping Chief still hovers over the city, and so has influenced Mr. Hsu to revive the cutting of the queues which were the mark of the Manchus. Be that as it may, Mr. Hsu, who is a Christian idealist, has seen the sufferings of the poor in China and the sad lot of the labouring classes, and has longed for some solution. Doubtless he has also read in the Acts of the Apostles of the early communistic group in Jerusalem. He has become deeply enamoured of Socialism as a possible solution, and has decided to carry his theories into practice by using his ancestral land as a testing station. The regulations of the new village are as follows:-

ALL THINGS IN COMMON.

1.—Whereas the object of the village is to labour together and share the goods things the village shall be called The Public Good Village.

2.—The objects are to unite the rich and poor in establishing this village. All private property and ancestral land, houses and goods, shall become public property which will be used to improve agricultural methods, to raise cattle and manufacture goods, so that clothing, food and housing may be ample for all. By using this plan, there will be no loafers nor unused land. Babies will be nursed, the youths instructed, the able-bodied will toil, the aged will be cared for, the sick healed, the dead buried, and so civilization established and the spirit of Peace and Joy will be such as to reproduce the Will of Heaven realized upon Earth.

3.—Ten men will be elected as a Council with the Headman as Chairman to which all important business will be entrusted with power to act.

MARRIAGE AND THE FAMILY.

4.—Persons of both sexes wishing marriage must be over 20 years of age. They must both be willing, and procure the consent of their parents. Only monogamy will be allowed, and it is a life contract. In case of death both sexes may remarry. $100 will be given out of the public funds to those wishing to marry. Ten months after birth all children must be sent to the public nurseries and supported at the expense of the village.

5.—Education will be provided for all ages and sexes. Especially clever pupils will even be sent to the University, but all others must toil until the age of 49 (Mencius) after which they will rest and be publicly supported. The working-day will be eight hours, with rest on Sundays, when meetings will be held in the Public Hall to expound knowledge, virtue and hygiene.

LABOUR AND ITS RESULTS.

6.—Farm labourers will form groups of 10 with a captain, and cultivate 30 acres. Another group will tend cattle, another work in factories receiving 30 cents a day, of which 10 will be pocket money for men and women alike.

7.—One man will be chosen to look after the rice, etc., and the cooking. Groups of ten sit at one table and eat three meals a day.

8.—As to clothing, 10 men will manage the weaving, making and mending of clothes, and two of everything will be given to each person. Bedding and mosquito nets will be provided free. All cotton will be grown on the farms, and all spinning and weaving will be done by the village without work from outside.

9.—Ten persons will occupy one house. These at first will be Chinese old style, but it is planned to erect new style dwellings as soon as the prosperity of the Colony permits.

WHERE OTHERS FAILED.

Herein is a sample of the radical thought of the young Chinese willing to express itself in actual experiment, and this notwithstanding the absolute failure of such socialistic communities in the Western World. Fournier failed to get anyone to try out his theory,

NEW SHAW PLAY.

"BACK TO METHUSELAH."

AN EXTRAORDINARY WORK.

An extraordinary new work by Mr. George Bernard Shaw is to come from Messrs. Constable in the near future, one which, according to the preliminary announcement, will interest biologists, religious leaders, lovers of the marvellous in fiction, and lovers of theatre—a queer assembly. "Back to Methuselah" is a play in five acts each of which is a play in itself, and its theme is the extension of human life. A long preface, in Mr. Shaw's usual style, argues the scientific possibility of his theme, and then we come to the play itself, beginning with "In the Beginning"—period, the Garden of Eden. The second act, "The Gospel of the Brothers Barnabas," is laid in the present day, and then in "The Thing Happens," we get the discovery, in 2220, of certain people still living from our own time.

A jump of a thousand years brings us to "The Tragedy of an Elderly Gentleman," by which time Great Britain is inhabited solely by tricenarians, venerated by the rest of the still short-lived world. Finally comes "As Far as Thought can Reach," which takes place in 31,920 A.D., of which it appears impossible to give any idea. The play is described as Mr. Shaw's scientific, religious, and political testament, as well as his supreme exploit in dramatic literature. Certainly it seems as if it will be of wonderful value for ten things.

A very great shipmaster is at present in Shanghai, namely Captain Kerr, R.N.R., of the "Bessie Dollar." Captain Kerr was in command of the ship "Clyde" when she was beached at Gallipoli—the leading event in the landing made by Sir Ian Hamilton. The epic story surrounding the "Clyde" is too well-known to call for recapitulation to-day, but it will be of interest to residents, especially to those who have gone through the Great War, to learn that such a comrade is in their midst.

Japan marches steadily towards a condition which some would describe as Socialism and others as the Service State. There is the projected petroleum monopoly. A full-dress rice monopoly has some strong advocates. A tea monopoly is thought about, the invitation to the rural banks to join in a big semi-official combine is a big step towards the consummation, and now we have the Finance Minister talking of the nationalisation of hydro-electric undertakings, and of a great shipping combine. It is an interesting experiment, but it is difficult to view it with the same confident light-heartedness as the Ministers who undertake it so readily, observes the Japan Chronicle.

but a warm welcome was found for such experiment in the United States, where it is on record that 41 communities were formed, and not one of these survived more than a few years. Mr. Hsu's scheme is largely modelled on Fournier's reorganization of the social structure, but he rejects Fournier's abolition of marriage. He is too much of a Christian and too good a Chinese to do anything so repugnant to our moral sense. Probably Mr. Hsu's ideas follow the old clan idea where much was held in common. The Chinese will not blindly follow every new fad, but will adapt those in harmony with many of their own engrained customs and views. The tithing system is, of course, well known in China since the days of antiquity.

HUMAN PERVERSITY.

The curious optimism of the originator of socialism seems to be shared by Mr. Hsu. The fact of human perversity is too much for any Utopia that may be constructed, and an ideal state is impossible without ideal people. However, Mr. Hsu may take comfort from the fact that the West is too individualistic for a Socialist village to succeed, for China unit has always been the family. Mr. Hsu has, however, laid hands on that institution, and by abstracting the children, as Plato proposed to do, has left the parents to take comfort out of their own society, though it is not clear whether they too must join the crowd and live happily ever after.

It remains to be seen how long his village will last. At any rate, it shows that some Chinese are dissatisfied with the world on Darwinian principles, and wish to find their way to co-operation and united effort. "We rub our eyes and wait."

NEW WOMAN IN ASIA.

A MANCHU LADY.

JAPAN AND KOKRA.

F. A. McKenzie writes in a Home paper:-

Today we take it as a matter of course that the wife of the new Chinese Minister in London (Mr. Wellington Koo) should be mentioned as prominently as her husband. Twenty years ago this would have been impossible. We should hardly have known if the Minister had a wife or not, and it would have been the height of discourtesy to mention the lady.

The Japanese, the quickest to adopt Western ways, were the first to introduce their womenfolk here as their husbands' equals.

But even in Japan to-day woman is very much in the "background." Her husband goes first in the street; she waits on him. It is her duty to submit and to obey.

It came as a shock to me the first time I visited a wealthy semi-Westernised home in Japan to find that the wife who bowed to me on my arrival very soon disappeared and was seen no more till near the end. We men had our dinner alone. Just before we left, the smiling wife, charming and polite, came and bowed us farewell.

In China, when I was passing through a great northern city, the Taoist, or governor, invited me to his home to dinner. He was a Manchu, and the Manchu women have always been more free than the Chinese proper.

On reaching his home I found to my surprise that his wife, beautifully dressed like her husband in Manchu robes, was waiting with him to receive me. She was a clever and attractive woman and her husband had every reason to be proud of her.

She was eager to know about the West. She told me of their one baby, a boy of two, and as I was found sympathetic, the nurse was sent for and the baby brought down for me to admire.

Then the wife was carefully escorted to dinner. One of us, of course, sat between her and the door and the other between her and the window to keep the evil spirits from her. There she sat, queen of the hour and type of the new Chinese woman.

The young women in large parts of China now go about freely. Girls ride bicycles to school. The women study Western fashions and follow them. Western schools have taught them something of our life, and they like it.

Not many years ago I lived for a fortnight in the house of a great Korean. During the whole time I never once saw one of his women folk, although behind the walls of my room I could hear the movements in their quarters.

The official would have counted it a disgrace to have brought his wife and daughters to me and they would have considered it a disgrace to be brought. I only learned after I left that they had been nursing a case of small-pox on the other side of the wall.

A white teacher of my acquaintance was about this time telling a group of Korean women how free the women of the West were and how their husbands raised no objection to their going about with their hair cut short. "Tell me," she said, "don't your husbands care for your foreign ladies at all?"

To-day the daughters of these same Korean women are going about just as freely as our daughters are. In the recent independence movement the high-school girls took the lead in various country towns, organised uprisings, and shamed the men into following them.

BOSTOCK'S CIRCUS.

FAMINE RELIEF FUND.

SPECIAL PERFORMANCE TO-NIGHT.

In spite of the inclement weather, Bostock's Circus, in Kowloon, has been drawing crowded houses nightly, also at the matinee performances. The management announces that the performance to-night, at 9.15, will be in aid of the China Famine Relief Fund and under the distinguished patronage of H.E. the Governor. It is expected that the attendance will be larger than usual, and a number of new items have been included in the programme. The weather, be it never so bad, should prove no serious disability as the circus marquee is waterproof.

HONGKONG'S OPIUM.

"A SCANDALOUS CONTRACT."

A MATTER FOR THE LEAGUE.

There has been another opium debate in the House of Commons, and the recent scandalous five-year contract between the Hongkong and Indian Governments was duly ventilated, but the absence in Egypt of Mr. Winston Churchill, the Colonial Secretary, provided the Government with an excuse for doing nothing in the matter, says the Japan Chronicle. As an academic proposition Mr. Montagu agreed that it was little good stopping the export to China and instead selling the drug to Japanese who smuggle it in. The attitude of the British Government is that it regards the matter from a purely commercial standpoint. Where a country prohibits opium or its derivatives, the British Government is prepared to forbid exportation to that country, but it does not hold itself responsible for the doings of other nationals who may lawfully buy opium. When the ten years' agreement was made with China, it was anticipated that poppy cultivation in India would be practically extinct except for domestic consumption at the end of the decade. Instead of that, however, there is still an immense output, which finds buyers in various parts of the world. The Chinese prohibition of the importation of opium, which can be prevented, has only laid the country open to the smuggling of morphia, which is far more difficult to stop, especially in the ports where the Japanese are in control. The arrangement made for restricting exports of morphia from Britain to Japan only created a new phase of throwing the business into American hands, and Japan year by year takes over the rôle of producer, so that the British sacrifice has been for nothing. Naturally they have minimised the sacrifice. Sir John Rees who poses as a sort of reactionary G. B. Shaw, declared that the Indian opium going into China was a small, negligible surplus over the opium grown in South China. This was the argument of Sir John Stroh, a great authority on the subject, who said that Indian opium was to Chinese opium in China what champagne is to beer in England. That was approximately true at the time—over twenty years ago—when the statement was made, and this is the measure to which Sir John Rees is behind the times. Naturally, in the disturbed state of China it has not been practicable to prevent some revival of poppy cultivation, but however much opium may be grown in China, this does not prevent the three-quarters of a million ounces of morphia which goes in through Japan from doing a great deal of additional harm. When the trade is stopped in one place it only finds another channel. For British or American manufacturers to stop making morphia only means that somebody else will take it up. It would increase the difficulties of the trade if Japan ceased to be a smuggling depot, but Japan might also say that if Japanese smuggling were stopped somebody else would take up the business. It seems to be a matter for the League of Nations.

THE WAY TO ELIMINATE MALARIA.

Ceylon Evidence.

To eliminate the cause—not merely the symptoms—of the right way to get rid of Malaria. The cause is parasitically poisoned blood. The only means of permanent cure is through the blood, by purifying and enriching the blood, and thus ridding it of the poison.

To-day in every country where Malaria exists there are living former sufferers from this dreadfully weakening, life-shortening disease who gratefully acknowledge that they owe their restored health solely to the new, rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the world renowned Blood Tonic, made for them. One of these is Mr. Percy James of the Construction Department, Ceylon Government Railway, Colombo. Mr. James says:-

"While doing inspection duty on the Northern line some years ago I contracted Malaria. As a preliminary to each attack I had a feeling of listlessness and my appetite fell away. In a few days I would be aching all over; at the same time becoming very cold and shivering with ague. This was followed by intense heat, and severe pains throughout the body accompanied by violent headaches. Then I would break into a profuse perspiration which soaked the bed and so the attacks would gradually pass off, leaving me in an exceedingly weak condition."

"Quinine did me no good whatever, and it was only after I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I began to experience relief. Soon after commencing this treatment my appetite improved, the attacks of ague and headaches, and the pains, decreased in violence and became less frequent. Indigestion and 'liver,' which had caused me trouble before, ceased, my spirits improved, and I gradually regained lost weight."

"After continuing the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for some time longer all traces of Malaria left me and I became as well and strong as ever before. I have been enjoying the best of health since."

For over thirty years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have been famous as a specific for those disorders which arise from impaired blood and debilitated nerves. They are obtainable from dealers everywhere, also, post free, at $1.50 the bottle, 83¢ for 6 bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 98 Seaverns Road, Shanghai.

SUPERSTITIONS.

THEATRICAL BELIEFS.

The theatre is full of superstitions. The curious fact about them is that they are purely secular and modern, not inherited from ancient religions or survivals of ancient customs. The average actor or actress is "temperamental" and his superstitions are psychological rather than historical emanations. They are, for the most part, nothing more than an idea conceived by some prominent theatrical personage which, he fancied, is born out by his experience and which the lesser lights take up and fancy is born by theirs.

Nothing is so easy as to start a superstition, especially among temperamental people dealing with the intangible and the uncertain. Theatrical superstitions are all founded in a belief in luck pure and simple. Among them may be mentioned that it is ill luck to person look over one's shoulder into a mirror. A yellow clarinet in the orchestra brings bad luck; it is bad luck to stumble over anything or to have one's clothes catch on a piece of scenery in making an entrance. If the first purchaser of a ticket for a new performance is an old person the play will have a long run; if a young person a short one, etc.
